DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. The applicant(s) amendment filed on August 3, 2006, particularly the addition of new claims 6 through 10, has necessitated the following action.
2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 5 and 10, drawn to a product of an MRI shim coil, classified in class 336, subclass 200.
 - II. Claims 1 through 4 and 6 through 9, drawn to a process of making an MRI shim coil, classified in class 29, subclass 602.1.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

3. Inventions of Groups II and I are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make another and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the product of Group I can be made by a materially different process, such as one the forms the required coil pattern by deposition and coating techniques, e.g. plating, CVD, etc., as opposed to cutting or punching of conductive material, as required by Group II.
4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and there would be a serious burden on the examiner if restriction is not required because the inventions have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 3729

5. If applicant(s) elect the invention of Group II, then this application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: Species A, B and C. The species are independent or distinct because:

Species A, Claim 7, is directed to features of first and second cutting steps in forming bridges of material and an insulating substrate, as this feature is not required in Species B and C.

Species B, Claim 8, is directed to a feature of creating a continuous spiral-like cut path, which is not required in Species A and C; and Species C, Claim 9, is directed to creating plural parallel cut paths in the conductive material to create opposing ends that are bent, which is not required in Species A and B.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, Claim 6 is generic in the invention of Group II.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Art Unit: 3729

NOTE: Claims 1 through 4 will be examined along with generic Claim 6 in the invention of Group II, as there would be no burdensome search to examine Claims 1 through 4 with Claim 6.

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

7. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to A. Dexter Tugbang whose telephone number is 571-272-4570. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday - Friday 7:30 am - 4:00 pm.
